"STRINGS CREWE" BENEFACTOR

CAROLYN CREWE GRAY was a board member of the Rappahannock Concert Association. In 2017, her estate bequeathed funding for music education to the Rappahannock Concert Association. We organized focus groups to determine the best use of our resources, and found there was no strings instruction in Northern Neck schools. We decided to name our project "The Strings Crewe" after her maiden name. She would have loved this idea! Supporting organizations to date: Virginia Commission for the Arts; River Counties Community Foundation; Northern Neck Orchestra; Rappahannock Music Study Club; Servetus Endowment and RCA.

INSTRUCTORS

Mei-Li Beane, Violin, Viola. She studied music at Rutgers University, the Conservatory of Seville, Spain and the College of William and Mary from which she holds a degree. She is a member of the Northern Neck Orchestra and has played with several orchestras and ensembles. Mrs. Beane will teach in Lancaster County, at the Kilmarnock YMCA and Campbell's Memorial Church in Weems.

Rebecca Ann Young, Cello. She graduated from Westminster College in New Wilmington, PA where she studied cello and graduated with a degree in Music Education. She taught public school music in Ohio and New Jersey for over 32 years. Rebecca has played the Akron POPS Orchestra and performed with a piano/string trio and other small ensembles. Mrs. Young will teach in Northumberland County at the Family YMCA in Heathsville.

Paul Lindsay, Violin, Viola. He is retiring this year from his tenure at the Appomattox Governor's School where he is Director of Strings, Winds, Jazz, Orchestra, Band, and Music Theory. He holds his State Certification to teach all instruments and music theory in the Schools and Colleges in Virginia. He earned an MM degree in Music Performance from the Juilliard School of Music in New York and is retired from the US Navy Band as one of its soloists. He will teach at St. John's Episcopal Church in Warsaw.

The Rappahannock Concert Association is a 501c3 organization.
Our Mission Statement: Provide quality live performances to a subscriber base and the broader community on the Northern Neck, and support music education to the region's youth.
